action. Inspired by Jewish values, NCJW strives for social justice by improving the quality of life for women, children, and families and by safeguarding individual rights and freedoms. NCJW Pittsburgh Section continues to fill a unique place among the service organizations in Pittsburgh as the only Jewish women's organization dedicated to advocacy and community service. Over the last 120 years, the strength of NCJW, locally and nationally, has remained our unique ability to identify the current needs of the vulnerable in our community and to respond in an intelligent and pointed manner.

JEWISH WOMEN'S FOUNDATION OF GREATER PITTSBURGH

The Jewish Women's Foundation of Greater Pittsburgh, founded in 2000, is dedicated to creating lasting social change in the lives of women and girls in the Jewish and general communities. JWF offers trustees the opportunity to participate in the strategic direction and distribution of JWF's grantmaking. Through donors' collective input, JWF funds innovative programs to address the unmet needs of women and girls in Allegheny County and Israel. The Foundation carries out its mission by making strategic grants on a yearly basis. JWF believes in making the world a better place structurally by strengthening the role of women and girls in society and culturally by influencing the way people think about and act upon things regarding women and girls' issues. Funding social change is at the core of what JWF does.

ABOUT US

The Center for Women is designed to be a resource for women in transition. Women in transition are those of us who, whether by choice or by other circumstance, are forging lives of our own and need a single place to find the resources required to help navigate the critical issues on the way to economic independence. You may be returning to the work force after an absence or job loss, going through separation and divorce, or may have recently lost a partner. Whatever the cause, we are here for you.

The Center for Women (CFW), established in 2012, is a collaborative program of the National Council of Jewish Women, Pittsburgh Section and the Jewish Women's Foundation of Greater Pittsburgh. CFW serves all women in the Greater Pittsburgh area, and does not discriminate on the basis of race/ethnicity, color, national origin, sex, disability, or age.

THE CENTER FOR WOMEN IS...

A safe and nurturing resource for support during your life transitions

A place to learn the basics of finances: understanding taxes, establishing credit, the ins and outs of social security, finding school loans, and more

An opportunity to refresh and develop career skills, network, and prepare for the job market

Visit www.centerforwomenpgh.org for more information, or contact us at (412) 421-4400 to arrange a confidential needs assessment with our professional staff.
